The { coniunction of Mars with ỳ Moone, noted thus. ☌ ♂.
quadrate of Mars and the Moone, noted thus. □ ♂.
oppositiõ of Mars to the Moone, noted thus. ☍ ♂.

Note, that all these Coniunctions, Quadrates, and Oppositions, are not onely very perilous to fall sicke on, but also dangerous to vse any extreame remedy to thy Patient, as purge, vomyte, phlebotomie, cautrize, or inscision, the which thou art to respect with some care in these intentions, how proper so euer the Signe shall seeme: for the maleuolent Aspectes do often wrest the kynde nature of the Signe to theyr qualities, to the hurt of the partie diseased, and discredite of practise. For thauoyding whereof I haue noted such seasons, with their seuerall Characters folowyng the Signe, wherein the Moone becommes so afflicted.

The best tymes to Bath, are when the Moone is in Cancer, Scorpio, and Pisces.

Cut Heare of Beard, or Head, the Moone in Libra, Sagittari, Aquari, or Pisces.

Rules for Husbandry.

THe Sunne in the Zodiacke so conuenientlie seated, as thereby may folow an apt temperament in the ayre, to the speedy springyng of the Hearbes, and all other cressyue and vegetable thyngs, it is not amysse to obserue the motion of the Moone to places best agreeyng to your purpose: as to sette, sowe seedes, graffe and plant, she beyng well affected, and in Taurus, Virgo, Capricorne. And all kyndes of Corne in Cancer. Graffe also, when she is increasing, and in Taurus and Aquari.

Sheare Sheepe, the Moone encreasing.

Fell hard Tymber, from the full to the change.

Fell Fryth, Coppice, or Fuell, at the fyrst Quarter.

Gelde and lybbe Cattle, the Moone in Aries, Sagittari, or Capricorne.

Kyll fatte Swine for Bakon, the better to keepe his fatte in boylyng, the Moone at the full, but not long after.

The Anatomie of mans body, as the partes thereof are gouerned by the. xij. Celestiall Signes.

Lo here you fynde the thyng which now you loſt,
A yeere (I meane) whoſe change doth full explayne,
How chyldyſh youth, from youth to age is toſte:
Which age bringes death, and death breedes life againe.

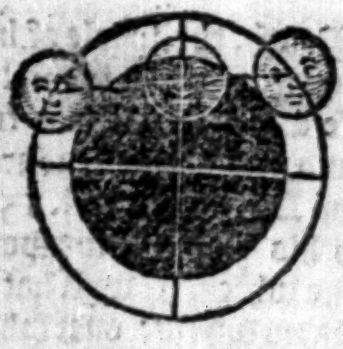
BIBLIOTHECA · BODLEIANA ·

Of the Moone Eclipsed this yeere to happen twyce. 1588. she being then at the full.



THere shall visibly appeare vnto vs a great Eclipse of the Moone, euen the. iii. day of March next, at one of the clocke, and. xviii. minutes in the morning: at what tyme her lyght wyll beginne to growe weake, and by longer processe of tyme her whole body almost obscured. The continuance whereof (from the begynnyng to the ende) wyll occupy one houre, and. xxxii. minutes in the signe Virgo. And the lyke event wyll occurre the Moone the. xvi. day of August, at. iiii. of the clocke, and. xv. minutes in the morning, when she wyll begynne peecemeale to loose her lyght, in Pisces, which wyll not so evidently appeare to any place of Englande, as to people farther inhabyting towardes the West. What the influence of these may be (within this yeere to happen) together with some fragmentes of the last yeeres Eclipse in September, I purposely omit to set downe, more then this, that there is lykelyhood of an Earthquake, with feare of the Plague and Pestilence to scourge the people. Certayne sprynklyng lyghtes may happely be seene in the ayre, to the muse and wonder of many. The last Eclipse wyll endure one whole houre, and. xlii. minutes.

A Prognostication.

A generall prediction of Winter.

1588.

AS olde Age is the onely enemy to Youth, the spoyle of beautie, and vtter decay of manly strength: so this Hyemall, or Winter quarter, seemes the chiefe and capitall foe to the Spring, the disgrace of Sommer, and the deepe deuourer of fruitefull Harueſt, which the. xii. day of December last. 1587. entered the lystes, wholly dyght with his wasting weapons of frost, snowe, wette, and wynde: with the which, he wyll not only rauyshe the brauest blossome of his vnstayned hew, ouerwhelme the pleasaunt Medowes, and fertyle Valyes, and shadowe the hyghest hylles, but also wythereth both stalke and stemme of the sweetest Herbe, subuertes the statelyest Trees, and congeales the syluer Streames. Which accidentes (in generall) wyll not (I suppose) exceede the speciall iudicaries (or dayly iudgementes) in my Prognostication: Whose changeable tymes, and momentarie motions, wyll cause sycknesses vnaccustomed in Winter to ryse: as Feuers synoch, Bleedyng, Pustles, Tettars, Scabbes, payne of the Head, Breſt, & Hart, whereof many are lykely to dye. Some peryll is threatned to Women with chylde.

Here, and in the Quarters folowyng, myght be noted (accordyng to artificiall skyll) many strange euentes to happen, which purposely are omitted in good consyderation. God almyghtie, who onely knoweth what shal come to passe, turne all euyls away from vs. Amen.

A prediction of the Spring.

THE benenolent Spring, pitteyng (as it were) the merciles outrage of extreame Winter, and execrable hauocke committed on the ympes of the earth, doth by the accustomed conduct of the Sunne approch, euen the. x. day of March, neare. viii. of the the clocke and. xliii. minutes at nyght, when he entred the fyrſt degree of Aries, at whoſe repayre, the Earth begynnes to ſmyle, and to exchange her weather-woune weedes, for the glytteryng lyuery of freſhe Flora, whoſe lyberall proceedynges wyll ſeeme often impugned, through the appearaunce of a multitude of darke, thycke, and duſkye cloudes, inferring ſharpe blaſtes, hoare froſtes, rayne, ſnowe, and vnkynde moyſture among, with ſodayne hygh flawes and vnnaturall diſtemperaunce, to the annoy of all ſortes of buddyng, bloomyng, and ſprontyng thynges: and to ſome hurt and leſſe of Cattle of both ſortes. Sundry ſortes of ſycknelles, and deadly maladies is threatned to men, as paynes in the Head, bleedyng at the Noſe, Palſies, ſoare Eyes, Tettars, Pimples in the Face, Scabbes, hot Feuers, whoſe heate extinguyſhed, may cauſe Feuers quartayne, and other ſycknelles of continuance, and worſe qualitie. Alſo great torture in the Guttes and Belly, with ſodayne death. The Eaſt inhabitauntes are lyke to ſuffer the ſmart of ſtrange ſycknelles.

A prediction of Sommer.

LIke as the ſeaſon paſt before wyll ſeeme troubled with vntymely weather, whereby to perfect creſſiue thynges in theyr due kynde: ſo the lyke euentes are to be doubted, to corrupt the accuſtomed temperament of Sommer, which begynnes the. xi. of Iune, betweene. v. and. vi. of the clocke at nyght, at what tyme the Sunne entreth the fyrſt degree of Cancer, when the ayre wyll be in ſundry wyſe troubled with ſundry ſtormes and tempeſtes, vnſeaſonyng the tymes, to the great damage of the Fruites of the Earth, and to Cattle and Beaſtes equitable. Through the aſſault of ſtrange ſickneſſe, many a luſty body is in danger to dye, as alſo others to be tortured with paynes in the Ioyntes and Thyghes. The fyſhyng this yeere wyll proue indifferent.

A prediction of Sommer, or Haruest.

WEre it so the inclination of the weather now, woulde aunsweare the state of the tyme present, yet coulde not the sequeale proue so profitable, as the Haruest, whose preceedyng seasons bred better bleauth, and fyrmer kearnyng of the Fruites: whose former imperfections, wyll nothyng impayre the benigne operation of our Haruest: which begyn to domine the .xii. of September, neare. iiii. of the clocke in the mornyng, when the Sunne entred the fyrst degree of Libra: at what tyme, through the a meanitie of ayre a lytle fauouryng the entry of her raigne, she ministreth better hope for the well rypenyng of thynges alyable to that effect, then good shewe of conuenient weather, for gatheryng the same, which wyll be intermyxt with sundry bruntes and broyles of wette, vyolent wyndes, thunder, and stormes. The paynes of the Head, Necke, and Thyghes, with dyuers other infirmities, wyll continue in force. Dyuers wyll vndertake long, and trauaylesome Iornies, and Vioages, whereof ryse rumors, and vntrue reportes wyll growe. Fewe other accidentes before (or here) specifyed, wyll alter course, other then the temperament which by kynde wyll fall out to a colder constitution: and this yeere, tymely encrease more mecte for the depth of Winter, then the myddest of Haruest.
